

MID-WINTER GATHERING

PRESENTING:

DENNIS SCOTT “Design for Nature”

Dennis’ presentation develops the notion of taking the McHargian mantra of Design With Nature a step further to Design For Nature. He highlights the importance of working with communities and gaining the support of decision-makers in order to ensure that plans and designs actually happen on the ground. He will present as a case study the work he has been involved with for over 20 years on Waiheke Island where an ordinary landscape with huge potential has been transformed through a multi-faceted, holistic approach to development and enhancement.

He suggests that we ought not focus exclusively on “outstanding” or “significant” - but that ordinary, mundane, middle landscapes matter too.

Dennis is the founding director of DJ Scott Associates, a landscape architecture practice in Auckland that has been involved with a wide range of landscape planning, assessment, design and management projects over the past 30-odd years.

He is the current president of the New Zealand Institute of Landscape Architects. His presentation is a concise version of the well received paper he presented at the 2009 IFLA World Congress in Brazil.
